We are delighted to welcome Tom Newall, who is joining us for the first time to lead this choral break.

Tom Newall studied at Durham University and the Royal Northern College of Music. He has built up a very successful freelance career as a conductor, and is currently Musical Director of the Salford and Congleton Choral Societies. He has also appeared as guest conductor for a number of organisations, including the Royal Northern College of Music, where he has a number of concerts in the 'Young Explorers' series. Tom founded the Manchester-based Piccadilly

Symphony Orchestra in 2014, a freelance orchestra focusing on work with young people and their families. Tom also works at the University of Warwick where he conducts the symphony orchestra and teaches conducting.

Tom has worked extensively in theatre and has conducted 3 productions for Buxton International Festival. In 2023 he gave his debut performance at Teatru Manoel in Malta.

Tom brings great depth of experience to our Choral Weekend, and we are sure everyone will find working with him to be rewarding.
